CLINICAL INTERESTS AND EXPERIENCE

CLINICAL PRACTICE

I am a Full Time Private Consultant Surgeon with a special interest in Trauma and Orthopaedic Surgery at the Sport and Orthopaedic Clinic, BUPA Hospital Bristol with a sub specialty interest in complex knee surgery and lower limb reconstruction, hand surgery and infection control. I have extensive experience in all aspects of core Trauma and Orthopaedic Surgery with up to date experience in the management of Musculoskeletal Trauma.

I currently receive more than 500 referrals from the UK and Abroad each year. I am experienced at revision of failed knee surgery. Over the last seven years I have continued to attend conferences involving complex knee and hand disorders and their reconstruction in order to keep abreast with the latest advances and techniques.

I now have 27 years of experience in the management of Orthopaedic Trauma. In the last 12 years as a consultant I have maintained my interest in operative trauma fixation, external fixation, and the techniques of locked intramedullary nailing. With this experience I have continued to have enthusiasm, not only for the clinical management of fractures, but also for the management and organisation of trauma services. I have published widely on the science of trauma and some aspects of trauma management in particular on the management of tibial fracture and infection control.

MEDICO-LEGAL EXPERIENCE

The preparation of expert medical reports for patients involved in personal injury claims has been part of my work and training since 1994. This work has given me insight into the management of complaints and complications. My Medico-Legal Reports are prepared according to the guidelines introduced by the Law Society and the British Orthopaedic Association and conform to Lord Woolf's reforms. I act equally without bias for plaintiffs and defendants and prepare reports for my own trust without charge. I have attended court on a number of occasions as an expert witness.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

My research interests are diverse and range from the field of trauma management and fracture repair to infection control.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Throughout my career, I have been actively involved and have participated in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching in Orthopaedics and in other surgical specialities.

This has comprised "bedside" teaching of clinical skills, running tutor groups as well as giving more formal lectures and practical workshops. For seven years on the Bristol undergraduate musculo-skeletal course, I have tutored small groups of students and educated, assessed and evaluated my educational methods. I managed the third year medical student curriculum of clinical training at Southmead Hospital over a seven year period and was a unit co-ordinator and tutor for the MDEMO course. I have been invited to lecture to both second and fifth year students. I enjoy teaching postgraduates and nursing and support staff. I am the lead member of the faculty involved in the musculo-skeletal part of the Basic Surgical Skills at the Bristol Royal Infirmary and recently was co-opted onto the BSS faculty at the Royal College of Surgeons, England.

RISK REDUCTION

I was the lead clinician on the Clinical Risk Management Committee for the Division of Musculoskeletal Medicine in North Bristol and was Instrumental in developing the early warning and risk identification system for Clinical Incidents.

EVIDENCE-BASED MEDICINE

Part of effective Clinical Governance includes keeping up with the evidence base in Trauma and Elective Orthopaedic Surgery.

AUDIT

Independent Audit of my work at the North Bristol NHS Trust demonstrated that I have one of the lowest local readmission rates following Total Knee Arthroplasty and a wound infection rate of 3%. Audit continues to be undertaken in Private Practice in London and at SOC Bristol Ltd in order to review the quality and standards of our clinical care.

DEVELOPMENT OF INFORMATION STRATEGIES

I was involved as a system evaluator in the EPR Pan Avon Project for the introduction of electronic patient record. I developed the first University Department of Orthopaedic Surgery Web Site and maintain a number of other websites that provide information to patients and colleagues.
